NEW WEEKLY TALK SHOW FOCUSES ON WHAT CHILDREN ARE FACING

ARE YOU A GLOW KID BEGINS 8 PM SATURDAY, JULY 14TH ON AM 570

Join us for a 30 minute weekly talk show focused on the imperative changes needed for positive childhood development. The show covers a broad range of relevant topics that children and families face, viewed with a solution focused perspective. Author, Elisa DiChristina, MSW, LCSW, is a parent, social worker and experienced clinician who has taken the multi-dimensions of the modern day issues affecting the well-being of today's youth head on. She boldly raises the bar to tackle prevalent issues straight on and the cross components related to child development. Elisa will bring a wide variety of guests to discuss their perspectives on relevant issues.

Utilizing her clinical expertise, through the use of her characters, narration and with the gifted artistic hands of illustrator RyAnn Jack, Elisa shares crooked lines, "mistakes", smudge marks, and fuzzy words and pictures that enable children to develop a healthy self-concept and appreciate individuality. As a team, author and illustrator have created the character Glowzy, a much needed social role model, presented in a fun, positive, original and energetic way to address the underdeveloped character in youth. Glowzy will take readers on a leadership journey displaying self-awareness, compassion, strength and how to stand in their glow while dealing with adversity.
